Description

Description:

The Arkocaps Ginger is a food supplement for people prone to motion sickness and lack of sexual desire. Gingerols in this product confirm its aphrodisiac reputation. They have also shown a beneficial action towards fertility, by increasing the amount of sperm produced and improving the sperms' mobility. Associated with Siberian ginseng, it reinforces its stimulating and energising activity. Ginger is also a good stomachic and is used for travel sickness. It helps improve digestion because it is a cholaretic and a cholagogue, in other words it complements the secretion and the excretion of bile.

Use:

2 capsules in the morning and at midday during the meals with a large glass of water.
