Description

Description:

The brain is the most active part of the human body, which works even when a person is asleep. Memory impairment is caused not only by age but also a huge amount of information that the brain has to process every day. Circulatory disorders are often the main cause of disorders in focus of concentration and memory.

Ginkgo extract supports the central and peripheral blood circulation and thus helps the human body to continuously supply the brain with sufficient quantity of oxygen and energy. It helps against vertigo. Vitamins B6, B12 and folic acid improve nervous system activity. Vitamins C, E and selenium are antioxidants which enhance the effects of ginkgo extract and improve mental activity.

Memoril forte – perfectly balanced combination of ginkgo, vitamins and active substances for memory, suitable for both – the elderly and intensively working people.
