Description

Description:

Hidraloe Face Cream provides the skin with the hydration that it needs, giving it a healthier and younger aspect. It possesses moisturizing, decongestive, calming and regenerative properties due to its aloe vera content. The moisturizing and protective actions are attributed to its content in bisabolol y centella asiática. The centella asiática causes fibroblasts to produce collagen, so that it fights flaccidity and improves the elasticity of the skin. Bisabolol possesses an important calming and refreshing action. It has emollient and stimulating properties due to the shea butter contained in the product. Shea butter has a high content of unsaturated fatty acids (linoleic, oleic, palmytic and estearic) that make it very compatible with the skin. In addition, it is an excellent cell regenerator and has anti-aging properties. It deeply soothes and nourishes the skin and is suitable for treating dry, sensitive, aged, or irritated skin.

Use:

Gently massage it on the skin in the morning and/or at night.
