Description

Description:

Patients who undergo bariatric surgery develop many nutritional deficiencies due to their poor diet and rapid weight loss. The American Society of Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery recommends many vitamins and minerals for these patients, and they rarely found in traditional multivitamins, Sleevit is specifically formulated to meet these nutritional needs. In addition, Sleevit contains biotin, vitamin B5 and selenium, which are needed to reduce hair loss, another common symptom after surgery. Sleevit also contains vitamin B complex which increases energy and fights fatigue. The high dose of antioxidants removes the harmful toxins released into the body with fat breakdown.

Use:

Take one capsule per day directly before food, as directed by your physician.
